Not illustrated. 1893 Excerpt: . . . the said George was bounden prentise to a shoemaker in Congleton for the space of ten yeres; and after 10 yerea, the said George came to her mothers house; but. . she cold never fansie or cast favour to hym, nor never will do; and she saies they never dwelld together. . and never had any camall act together. I at once set to work and copied from the volume for six or seven hours a day during the rest of my stay in the fine old city on the banks of the beautiful Dee--a river without a single lock in it, from source to sea; and only one weir, at Chester, to keep a good head of freshwater always above the town! There are plenty of Depositions in this (1561-6) volume and elsewhere, in the Registry, in suits for divorces from these child-marriages--one of a...
