When a bill, drawn on a Jew in Hamburg, comes on a Saturday, or holiday of the Jews, he is not to be molested on that day; yet, if the bill is payable after sight, he is to date his acceptance on the day on which the bill came to hand. When the prima (or first) of a bill is accepted without being indorsed, and the second, or third, comes with an indorsement, the possessor of such a bill is to present to the acceptor, on the day of payment, the accepted first bill, and also the indorsed second, or third; and all these must, after payment, be delivered to the person who pays the bill. If the indorsement should contain only the word order,...
