Wm; Gaston: An Eulogy, Delivered by Appointment of the Officers and Members of the Fayetteville Bar, on Monday, November 11, 1844 I come to praise, and not to bury. The latter Lath been long since done - and corruption hath already asserted her irresistible claim. To die is the lot of all men, and no one is denied his share in the inheritance of the grave. But to be praised after death is the property of a few, and a price must be paid to obtain an interest therein. Men give not praises for nothing, either to the living or to the dead. The consciousness of every man that he hath but a short time to live, makes him covetous of a place in the memory of his fellow men, that he may continue to live there, when he shall have ceased to be among them in the activity of life. Among the ancient Egyptians, men sought by the skill of the embalmer to perpetuate their personal identity, after the...
